VICTORIA COLLEGE RESULTS ANNOUNCED BY U. B. C.

Big Grain Jam At East Ports Will Last Over Month

No More Steamers Being Sent From Head of Great Lakes Till Tie-up at Port Colborne, Buffalo and Montreal is Ended; Seventy-six Vessels Delayed at Montreal.

Port Colborne, Ont., May 8.—Grain congestion here remains unchanged to-day and with no vessel en route from the upper lakes, the situation may be slightly eased within a few days. It is not expected, however, that the jam will be entirely cleared as far as Port Colborne is concerned for well over a month, with Montreal in a badly congested condition with seventy-six steamers tied up and Buffalo not running freely.

Fourteen vessels are still here with more than 4,500,000 bushels on board and in the elevator are 3,350,000 bushels more.

SCORED FOR STATEMENT

Saskatoon, May 8.—A report from Montreal which blames organizations of prairie farmers for the grain congestion at the port of Montreal and which suggests that prairie agrarians (Concluded on page 3)

POLICY CHANGE DRIVES FARMER SECRETARY OUT

Government Seeks to Rob Farmers' Institutes of Independence

Changes in the policy of the Government towards the advisory board of Farmers' Institutes which has in the past been absolutely free from political interference, is believed to be behind the resignation which takes effect tomorrow of C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, who for twelve years has been secretary of the advisory board.

The position carries no set salary, the secretary being recompensed for the time he devotes to the work and for traveling expenses.

BOARD'S STATUS

The advisory board, as it exists at present, has won the reputation of being the finest of any province in the Dominion. It has maintained an independent status and under the last Government and the former Conservative Government was free from political control. Mr. Griffiths declined to give reasons for his resignation, but the fact that he (Concluded on page 3)

Juneau - Cordova Flight Is Made

Cordova, Alaska, May 8.—The first plane, the Cluett amphibian Alaska, to arrive here, landed in Cordova Bay yesterday, having made the non-stop flight of 450 miles from Juneau in four hours and twenty minutes. It was also the first trip across the Gulf of Alaska by air.

LONDON INVITATION IS HONOR TO THE WOMEN OF CANADA

Edmonton, May 8.—An invitation just received here from London comes as an honor to the women of Canada, through the event the communication suggests will not be held.

It was expected one or all of the five Alberta women whose Senate appeal is to be heard by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council June 17 would be in London at that time and the message asked that they attend a great public function there. It is not their intention, however, to go to the British capital.

The invitation, which also carried with it an offer of assistance, was tendered by a group of women in Great Britain, including members of the House of Commons and other notable leaders who have achieved distinction in politics, business, the professions, literature, education and social endeavor.

Fir Lumber May Escape U.S. Tariff

Big Shingle Manufacturers Speed to Washington to Save Industry Here

Mill Men Favor, Loggers and Timber Owners Oppose U.S. Duty on Logs

Lumbermen concentrated to-day on trying to find out how the new tariff regulations proposed at Washington will affect the industry in British Columbia.

Latest reports, received by the lumbermen here at noon to-day from their representatives in Washington, was that the United States duty would be 25 per cent ad valorem on cedar shingles and cedar lumber, 15 per cent on hardwood, but there would be no duty on fir or hemlock.

GO TO WASHINGTON

J. H. Bloedel, head of the Bloedel, Welch & Stewart operations at Great Central Lake and of other lumbering and mill operations in various parts of the Province, left last night for Washington, D.C. to head the fight on behalf of the British Columbia producers before the Congressional committee.

Fred Woods and associates, who at Inglewood, B.C., operate one of the largest lumber and shingle mills on North America, with the whole production shipped directly to United States Atlantic seaboard cities, is also starting a fight at Washington. "We have been no duty on Canadian lumber going into United States and for years the Canadian Government has been urged by lumber producers here to take the duty off United States lumber coming into Canada, as it was clear that sooner or later United States would put on a retaliatory duty against our lumber," said D. O. Cameron of the Cameron Lumber Company. "We have much more to lose in this as Canadian mills have been exporting far more lumber than has been coming into the country."

Washington is putting a retaliatory duty of $1 a thousand on logs, because British Columbia places an export duty averaging $1.50 on logs going into United States. If British Columbia (Concluded on page 3)

BANDITS IN CHINA HOLD MISSIONARY

New York, May 8.—The Christian and Mission Alliance to-day received word from its mission at Sungtiao, Kweichow, China, that Rev. H. Schweindener of Chicago had been kidnapped by bandits. The cablegram announcing his capture said he and Rev. E. A. Traux of 317 Mission Road, Glen Dale, Calif., had been attacked on a road and after being beaten and robbed Mr. Schweindener had been carried off. Mr. Traux was released and returned to the mission.

LITTLE JOE

IT TAKES A TIP-TOP MAN TO MAKE THINGS HUM.

SOPHOMORE LEADER

MISS IDELE WILSON
first ranking student in the second year class of the Victoria College, who will receive the Royal Institution and Frank Memorial Scholarship of $50 for securing the highest standing in English.

HEADS FIRST YEAR

CHARLES ARMSTRONG
who won the Kiwanis Club Scholarship of $100 for the highest ranking student in the freshman class of the Victoria College. Armstrong will be president of the Students' Council during the 1929-30 terms.

ADDS TO LAURELS

who will share the Victoria Men's Canadian Club prize of $25 and Kathleen Agnew Scholarship of $100 with Viola Davis and Robert Wallace, through his success in the Victoria College examinations. In addition to this academic distinction, Gibson has been recently honored by re-election to the presidency of The Sun Oratory Club.

First Flight Is Winning Horse At Chester

Chester, Eng., May 8.—Lady Scarborough's First Flight won the Chester Cup to-day over the 2 1/4 mile course here in a field of twenty-two. Baron Baeyens' Dark Hillock was second and Sir Edward Hamner's Pompadour was third. The Chester Cup has a value of £2,550, with extras. First Flight won by a neck, while there were three lengths between second and third. The betting was 9 to 1 against First Flight, 100 to 1 against Dark Hillock, and 33 to 1 against Pompadour. In accordance with tradition, the owners of the first three horses will receive a champion Chester cheese.

TWO DIRIGIBLE OCEAN SERVICES NOW PLANNED

Akron, Ohio, May 8.—President Hoover and Paul W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation, will discuss plans for transoceanic dirigible air mail lines from the United States to Hawaii and London. It was said here to-day.

The possibility of such lines was gone over by postal authorities and officials of the airship company in Washington last week. Original proposals for a dirigible line from Los Angeles to Honolulu have been expanded to include a similar service between New York and London.

THREE MILLION IS VALUE OF NEW BUILDING HERE

Permit for St. Joseph's Nurses' Home Carries Figures From January 1 to $3,025,000; Many Large Contracts Included in Total, With Record Building Year in Prospect.

Tangible evidence of the development that has been a visible factor of expansion here since the first of the year was given to-day when building permits issued for new work undertaken in Victoria city for the first four months of the year climbed above the $3,000,000 mark.

The $107,000 permit, taken out by the Sisters of St. Ann for the new Nurses' Home at St. Joseph Hospital, brought building figures to $3,025,000 since January 1. This is exclusive of Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay building permits, which are also high.

ALREADY UP 50 PER CENT

The comparison becomes the more marked when it is recalled that a $2,000,000 volume of building for 1927 and again in 1928 were considered excellent progress for the full yearly period. Now, with only one-third of the year spent, the figures show a gain of 50 per cent over the entire twelve months of last year.

A decisive factor in this year's figures is the Empress Hotel contract where the new north wing is being built at a cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. Figures in the two years previous were affected by large building contracts in the cathedral, hospital and industrial construction.

While the number of permits issued month for month this year compares evenly with last year, the value of the average permit is considerably higher. Work has already started on the St. Joseph's Nurses' Home at 640 Rupert Street to plans prepared by C. Elwood Watkins. The work is being carried out by Luney Bros. at a cost of $107,000, exclusive of equipment and furnishings. The building will be a three-story brick structure with provision for ninety rooms.

LARGE CONTRACTS PENDING

Other large contracts contributing to building values this year have been the addition to the Hudson's Bay Company's premises on Douglas Street, the renovation of many commercial premises; progress on the cathedral project; the Jubilee Nurses' Home; the cold storage plant at Ogden Point, and a great deal of general renovation and addition to store accommodation in the retail section of the city. With other large contracts pending, prospects of a record building year appear to be assured.

SHARES HONORS

who, with Frank Waites, led the first year mathematics classes of the Victoria College. He is joint-winner of the David Spencer Scholarship of $100.

Quebec Flier Attempts to Set Up New Record

Montreal, May 8.—Captain E. M. Jones, chief pilot of the Curtis-Reid airport at Cartierville, Que., took off from the Back River aerodrome this afternoon in an effort to better the world altitude record.

FIRE DESTROYS SAWMILL

Prince George, B.C., May 8.—A fire at the F. G. Thrasher sawmill at Snowshoe completely destroyed the mill, dry kiln and a quantity of piled lumber, as well as three loaded cars of lumber. The C.P.R. sent a locomotive up from McBride and pulled away three cars. The loss, estimated at $125,000, is said to be covered by insurance.

TO SAFEGUARD INTERESTS OF UPPER ISLAND

Disposal of Power at Campbell River Arouses Public Action

(Special to The Times)
Courtenay, B.C., May 8.—A special general meeting of the Comox Courtenay Board of Trade and other representative bodies in the district was held this morning with a view to safeguarding the interests of the Comox District with regard to the disposal of power at Campbell River.

The general sentiment of the meeting was that there was a danger that the power might be developed so that the last great natural resource of the district would be used for the benefit of the southern end of the island and that the Comox district would again be left out in the cold.

Also it was urged that if a smelter is to be built in the district, provided that the rights are granted to any one company, that the date for the commencement of the construction of such industry or industries should be written right into the contract and not left merely to a promise.

A committee was appointed to hold a general and public meeting of public bodies of Courtenay, Cumberland and Campbell River to discuss the situation and endeavor to safeguard the interests of the Upper Island.

NEW ELECTIONS ACT IS DRAFTED AT OTTAWA

Committee Asks Commons to Legalize Hiring of Autos By Candidates

Ottawa, May 8.—Candidates should be allowed to hire automobiles or other conveyances to carry voters to the polls on election day, it was decided to-day by the special committee of the House of Commons reviewing the Dominion Elections Act. Section 11, which makes the practice an offence, will be recommended to be deleted.

MRS. A. E. G. HALL GIVEN DIVORCE

Vancouver Judgment Separates Couple Married in Victoria in 1921

Vancouver, May 8.—Boasting a string of academic degrees obtained in London, Paris, Geneva and Vienna, "Dr." Alfred Ernest George Hall, president of the International Society of Mental Light, at the age of twenty-seven, according to his advertising literature, one of the "world's most noted psychologists," was a respondent to a divorce petition heard in the British Columbia Supreme Court here by Mr. Justice Fisher.

Hall is known in Victoria, where he attended high school until 1919, when he quit after instigating a strike among the pupils against a curtailment of Easter holidays. He served a sentence in the Okalla jail. Later he appeared in Chicago and Toronto as a psychologist, lecturing on love and mystical subjects.

Mr. Justice Fisher granted Edith Bertha Hall, 4440 Warden Street, an absolute decree of divorce from the "psychologist," to whom she was married at Victoria on September 7, 1921. Custody of the three children of the marriage, two boys, aged six and two, and a girl, aged four, was awarded to the mother.

VICTORIANS DO WELL AT UNIVERSITY

University Scholarship For Proficiency Won By Marjorie Speed

Other Local Students High in Examination Results Announced To-day

Several Victoria students are among those honored as the result of the graduation examinations at the University of British Columbia, according to an announcement made by the University Senate in Vancouver to-day.

Miss Marjorie E. Speed, who formerly attended the Victoria College, was the winner of the University Scholarship for general proficiency in third year. This scholarship is valued at $150. Robert Halet, also of Victoria, was the leading student in third year science. Guy Waddington, M.A., who was recently awarded a fellowship in California, secured his B.A. with honors.

Other Victorians who will receive their B.A. degrees this year are: Josephine Hart, Harold Johns and Lionel Laing.

The following passed in their examinations: Winnifred Tervo, Ethelwyn Dee, Armstrong, Dorothy Downes, Margaret Gourlay, Helen Sutherland, Iola Worthington, Henry Gilliland, George Green, Muriel Bowes and Ernest Aylon.

Those who passed with supplements were: Dorothy Cruickshank, Cecilia Gareche and B. Anderson.

Two of the five Victorians taking examinations in the applied science section passed. They were: William Blankenbach, B.A., and Stanley Carver, Harold Blackett, B.A., was conditioned. (Concluded on page 15)

Students Maintain High Standard In Examinations Here

Idele Wilson Leads Second Year Class With Record Percentage, While Charles Armstrong is First in Freshman Section; Winners of Fourteen Scholarships and Prizes Named; Senate Commends Showing of Leaders in Various Subjects.

Q-BOAT COMMANDER VISITOR IN CITY

ADMIRAL CAMPBELL, V.C., D.S.O.

Vancouver, May 8.—Showing the students have maintained their usual high standard, the results of the first and second year final examinations at Victoria College were released by the Senate of the University of British Columbia at a meeting in Vancouver to-day. Announcement of the winners of fourteen scholarships and prizes was also made.

Making ninety-two and two-fifths per cent, Idele Wilson ranked first in the second year class. Charles Armstrong led the first year students with eighty-eight and one-eighth per cent. Miss Wilson's percentage was the highest achieved by a Victoria College student in final examinations since the inauguration of the institution.

The statement issued by the Senate is as follows: The Senate of the University of British Columbia has approved and passed the results of the examinations held at Victoria College in April.

We are informed by the Faculty of the College that the average marks of both first and second year students are well up to the standard of the good marks of previous years. Charles Armstrong and Idele Wilson led the first and second year respectively with very high averages. The marks of students who have taken the highest places in individual subjects are also noteworthy.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

In the First Year
Scholarships and prizes will be awarded as follows:

The Kiwanis Club scholarship of $100.00 awarded to Charles Armstrong. Major F. V. Longstaff scholarship of $50.00 for highest standing in Latin—David C. Ellis. Agnes Deans Cameron scholarship of $50.00 for highest standing in English awarded to Dorothy Johnson and David Ellis by reversion to Dorothy Johnson. The Walter Nichol scholarship of $50.00 for highest standing in French awarded to Jessie McLenzie, by reversion to David Ellis and George Hall, by reversion to George Hall.

The David Spencer scholarship of $100.00 for highest standing in mathematics awarded to Frank Waites and Ralph Moore. The University Women's Club scholarship of $50.00 awarded to Mary Crook.

The Faculty scholarships of $25.00 for general proficiency awarded to William MacLaurin and G. E. Backler.

In the Second Year
The Royal Institution and Frank Eaton memorial scholarship of $50.00 for highest standing in second year English awarded to Idele Wilson. The Victoria Men's Canadian Club prize of $25.00 and the Kathleen Agnew scholarship of $100.00 for highest standing in Canadian history awarded to Viola Davis, James Gibson and Robert Wallace.

The Alliance Française prize of $50.00, for progress in French and continuing university work in this subject, awarded to Irene Montaldi, by reversion to Robert Verburgh.

Shipmates Welcome Mystery Ship Hero On His Arrival Here

One Killed In Fight In India

Looking fit and well after a long and arduous tour, Rear-Admiral Gordon Campbell, V.C., D.S.O., the famous mystery ship commander, arrived in Victoria this morning.

He was met by his old friend and shipmate, Commander L. W. Murray, R.C.N., with whom he will stay during his visit.

The distinguished officer was delighted to be back in Victoria again and talked readily to W. H. Hart, who is in charge of the lecture arrangements, of his previous experiences here. He was reticent, however, regarding his personal service during the war.

He was accompanied by Capt. R. W. McMurray, R.D. R.N.R., marine superintendent, B. C. Coast Services of the C.P.R., who served under Admiral Campbell during the war. Each officer holds the other in the highest esteem and regard, and each was willing to talk about the other, when the other's back was turned.

Capt. McMurray told of an officer who gained and held the utmost confidence of his officers and men. Admiral Campbell as Captain "D." Irish Sea—which means that he was in (Concluded on page 3)

Body Taken From Lake in Seattle

Seattle, May 8.—The body of Captain Fred B. Sigurdson, missing steamship owner, was recovered to-day from Lake Union here. A state-wide search had been in progress since the captain disappeared April 20.

Sigurdson, weakened as a result of influenza, left home April 20 to visit his boat, under repair at an engineering plant on Lake Union. He is believed to have fallen into the lake while at the plant.

FISH BOAT LOST IN NORTHERN WATERS

Prince Rupert, May 8.—The United States fishing boat Bonad Amundsen was destroyed by fire while en route south. It was reported here to-day on the arrival of the captain, Angel and two men of the crew, who had been rescued and taken to a dory and were subsequently picked up by the patrol boat New England, which brought them to Prince Rupert.

The fire was caused by a back-firing engine. The blazing ship sank in two hours. The men saved none of their effects.

NEW STEAMSHIPS WILL ADD TO CANADA-WEST INDIES TRADE

Kingston, Jamaica, May 8.—The possibilities of trade from Jamaica to Canada are limited only by transportation and by the marketing facilities in Canada, in the opinion of H. V. Myers, president of the Jamaica Chamber of Commerce and head of one of the largest importing and exporting houses of Kingston.

The arrival of the steamship Lady Somers of the Canadian National Steamships from Montreal to-day, marking the inauguration of that service between Canada and the West Indies, was significant, said Mr. Myers, as showing the first problem of transportation had been effectively solved.

The two new Canadian National ships, the Lady Somers and the Lady Rodney, are welcomed by Jamaicans as tangible proof of Canada's anxiety to carry out her part of the obligations of the Canada-West Indies agreement.

He said, "The tendency now will be for all Canadian products bound south to Jamaica and for all Jamaica products bound north to Canada, to be shipped by either of these ships. Up till the present many of the products have passed through the United States."

"The marketing problem, having its source as much in knowledge of Jamaica as in the disposal of the colony's goods, awaits settlement at the hands of the Canadian commercial community. Jamaicans have a much better understanding of Canada than Canadians have of Jamaica or of the West Indies. The need is urgent," Mr. Myers said, "for Canadians to come to Jamaica to study its conditions and its products, and the distinctions which hold between it and other parts of the British West Indies."

Your pay load is the load of actual merchandise you deliver—the load of the actual commodity you haul—whatever the size of the truck.

There is no profit for you in hauling the truck itself, or the body. That's expense.

Dodge Truck owners know the meaning of Pay Loads. That's why there are so many Dodge owners.

Excess weight was engineered out of Dodge Trucks long ago without sacrifice of strength or ruggedness.

For your information—for comparison, and we invite it—we will be glad to go into the detail of sizes, weights and prices on the 51 standard Dodge Truck chassis.

THE NEW TARIFF PROPOSALS

IF THE UNITED STATES TARIFF BILL shall be approved by Congress as presented to the House of Representatives yesterday, Canada's export business with the republic will suffer considerably. One of the principal penalties it would impose would be upon the lumber and shingle industries of British Columbia. Manufactured lumber at present is on the free list; the bill asks for an import duty of twenty-five per cent. ad valorem. There is no Canadian duty on shingles, of which we export approximately ninety per cent of our output to the neighboring republic.

The introduction of a tariff schedule for our forest products is not altogether unexpected. For years, at the behest of our own lumber interests, we have had a general customs rate of twenty-five per cent. against manufactured lumber entering this country from the United States. Our lumber interests have been warned time and again that unless they pressed for the removal of this tax, retaliatory measures eventually would be pursued by our neighbors. It may be that the scale of duty now proposed at Washington will be modified before the President signs the bill; but we may assume the tax that will be levied will be stiff enough to curtail our exports of the commodities involved to what, after all, for years has been our best market.

There should be no disposition to take an unduly pessimistic view of the situation the new duties may create. Our lumbermen will be forced to find new markets to set off some of the disadvantage they must expect. Much of the initiative will have to be taken by themselves, although they will require assistance from the authorities at Ottawa. They have made representations to the Dominion Government in support of negotiations looking to the extension of preferential treatment for our lumber under the provisions of the Canadian-Australian treaty. The Dominion Government, through Mr. Robb and Mr. Malcolm, has expressed its willingness to take up the matter with the Australian Government; but it also has been obliged to remind our lumbermen that if Canada expects more trading advantages from Australia than she at present is enjoying, she herself must make concessions to that Dominion.

This is a point which cannot be avoided. At present we are selling to Australia goods three times the value of the commodities we import from her. Yet the very interests in this country which will bewail the policy of the United States most would increase the tariff on butter we are obliged to import from the Antipodes, a policy which would wreck the treaty altogether and forever close that market to a commodity which the new United States tariff bill will penalize most. How important it is that nothing should be done to antagonize our Australian friends is reflected in the comparative amount of lumber our sister Dominion imports from the United States and Canada. Her annual requirements amount to something like 850,000,000 feet; yet of this Canada supplies less than 60,000,000 feet, while our neighbor on the South sells her more than 350,000,000 feet. We ought to be able to capture a good deal of this business; but it never will be captured if our high tariff friends are to have their way.

In the other commodities affected by the tariff changes, British Columbia is not so vitally concerned. It is suggested that the proposed increase in the duty on milk and cream will not seriously curtail our shipments across the border, since there often is a serious shortage. Its principal effect will be higher living costs for the American consumer. It will be noted that beef cattle on the hoof will not be affected by the new proposals. The same reason applies here. The republic needs our beef, just as we need Antipodean butter, because it cannot satisfy its own requirements. All this is subject to the reservation that the tariff measure at Washington may undergo radical change before it has been adopted by Congress and signed by the President, since it will be hotly attacked by many interests.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

ALDERMAN MARCHANT HAS MADE out a good case for the Provincial Government to consider with respect to the property it owns within the city and upon which it does not pay municipal taxes. He asks the City Council to suggest to the Government that it grant annually a sum equivalent to the ordinary taxation upon the properties held and administered for provincial purposes "or such amounts as may be established as of equal value to the services rendered."

Although the proposal is not altogether new—a similar request was made to the former Government—it is well that it should be revived. In the present instance the matter will be left in the hands of a committee for purposes of study, while information will be obtained as to what policies other cities in the Dominion similarly situated are following.

The point is all the more important now in view of the Government's acquisition of additional property for provincial purposes, the prospect being that at no distant date its holdings within the limits of the municipality will be considerably extended.

DEVELOP INTER-EMPIRE TRADE

IN VIEW OF THE THREAT WHICH THE United States tariff proposals direct at Canada's export business, the King Government should at once take the necessary steps to remove the duties on goods Great Britain manufactures, but which we now are buying from the United States. Not only would this course insure lower retail prices to the Canadian consumer; it also would strengthen imperial trade. As a policy, moreover, it would be much more profitable than waging a tariff war with our neighbor on the South.

At present Canada's trade with the United Kingdom is approximately three dollars to one in our favor, and British importers, through such mediums as "Canada Weeks" and other forms of advertising the commodities we sell to them, are familiarizing the consuming public with Canadian goods. All these products, of course, go into the British market without paying a cent of duty.

If Canada should remove the duties on goods from the United Kingdom, our imports would increase; but it also would mean that our exports would grow in a much greater proportion. Many of the products we at present import from the United States we might just as well be buying from the United Kingdom, as we would find it profitable to do if they were not compelled to scale a fairly high tariff wall.

What applies to Canadian-United Kingdom trade applies to inter-empire trade in general. Our neighbor's new plans may, after all, prove of great assistance in strengthening the bonds which bind the various parts of the Empire together—in an economic sense—a development greatly to be desired.

RATES ON GRAIN

IT IS PRACTICALLY CERTAIN THE two Canadian transportation systems will meet the United States lines and reduce their rates on the carriage of grain to the seaboard. No statement so far has been issued at Montreal; but action in the matter will be in the nature of self-defence.

Into this question of grain very little sentiment enters. The farmer on both sides of the boundary works on a comparatively small margin and two or three cents on a hundred pounds may make all the difference between a profit and a loss. A great deal of grain from Canada goes from Buffalo to the Atlantic seaboard over American railways. Large shipments of American grain go to the markets of the world through Montreal.

The farmer with his grain will use the cheapest and most convenient service for its distribution. Sentiment is a secondary consideration. Its fine phrases are no match for the cold logic of economics.

ACCIDENTS AT CROSSINGS

THE GUELPH MERCURY SAYS "IF ALL" motorists who collide with railway trains were prosecuted perhaps there wouldn't be so many crossing accidents.

The fatal flaw in this suggestion is obvious enough. It nearly always happens that the occupants of automobiles that get in the way of railway trains are automatically removed from the jurisdiction of the courts. The case usually is one of gathering up the fragments and removing them to the nearest undertaking establishment.

As long as human nature is what it is, there always will be those who will take the long chance; they will try to get over the track before the train reaches the crossing. Perhaps most of them will escape; but some will be caught and pay the price with their lives. The only solution of the problem appears to be in the gradual elimination of crossings. In the construction of new railways and new highways there should be no difficulty in avoiding them. And as automobile traffic increases, which it will do, existing danger spots should be removed.

In the meantime, the automobilist who wilfully disobeys warning signals and otherwise neglects to exercise even ordinary care, sooner or later will suffer for it.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

LOST RADIUM
The Edmonton Journal

During the search for a lost tube of radium in Saskatoon a woman telephoned to ask if they had looked in the doctor's pockets. She has a husband.

A COURTEOUS GENTLEMAN
The Halifax Herald (Conservative)

Halifax is honored by a visit from a man who stands high in the councils of this country and in the esteem of its people. He would be an incurable partisan, indeed, who would question the integrity of the Hon. James A. Robb or seek to discount his fine qualities of mind and heart.

The Halifax Herald has had reason to congratulate the minister of finance, and to criticize him; but always in a fair and constructive way, and always in his capacity as a minister of the Crown. Behind any criticisms we have had to offer there has been nothing of rancor and certainly no disposition to question his sincerity and goodwill.

If we were asked to describe Mr. Robb in a phrase we would call him sure-footed, a great deal more sure-footed perhaps than the exigencies of politics and the demands of politicians will permit him to be. And always he is the courteous gentleman, one of the most respected members of the House and Government. He could not be different. Even when he was chief Liberal whip in the Commons, he never lapsed from his poise or his kindly consideration for all who came his way. Nor has his attainment of high place impaired his native modesty and sincerity of manner.

We would like, in the name of the Nova Scotia people, to assure Mr. Robb that whatever his political "faults" (judged from angles of politics) he is a welcome visitor to this province, respected as a man, admired as a minister. And we all hope that he will come back to Nova Scotia soon again.

Loose Ends

The Community's Christmas Tree and the Minor Prophets—Knight hood, once in flower, is going to seed in Canada—the case of the changing comets.

By H. B. W.

ONE OF the minor prophets who practice in these parts has been raising his outraged and choking voice against the newspapers again. This is interesting in a negative sort of way, not because it bespeaks an unplumbed ignorance, which one expects, but because it is the voice of an ingratitude whose depths will never be fathomed. It may impress a few intellectuals, who have little to do but be impressed, but most people, I fancy, will be content so long as the news is on the front page, oil questions are satisfactory on the financial page and Mary Gold has been well and truly buried in the Gumps strip.

THE IDEAS of these minor prophets about newspapers are curious. Having overlooked the fact that newspapers are business enterprises purely, largely mechanical in their makeup, and living on their advertising revenues, these prophets expect the newspapers to be both schools and churches when they are more similar to a factory.

FORTUNATELY—or unfortunately—for themselves, the newspapers goodnaturedly have taken on most of the work thus delegated to their unworthy hands. The newspaper is a kind of a community church to whom everything is left. A charity wants (tunes) the newspapers issues an appeal, free of charge. A service club is putting over a drive—the newspapers use their limited talents to present aspects of the matter of which never occurred to the service club. A congregation decides to build a new church—the newspapers use up yards of white paper at so much per yard to collect the money needed. Mrs. Climber gives a tea party—the newspapers publish the facts just as she writes them, with a few changes in spelling and grammar.

BOTH NEWSPAPERS in this city must receive at least 10,000 requests in a year for articles of some kind from Cabinet ministers to firemen. Close to a hundred per cent are granted, though every line published costs the newspapers a goodly sum in paper, ink and wages. The newspaper is the all-the-year-round Christmas tree. Let the minor prophets prophesy in the market places, and from the house tops. Even one of them will come into this office at time during the next year to ask that his name be inserted or kept out in connection with speeches, social functions or court proceedings.

THE CANADIAN Parliament having decreed and recently decreed that there shall be no more in Canada, a still greater power is completing the job. Since the first of the year five leading Canadian knights have been gathered to their fathers—Sir James Aikins, politician and financier; Sir Hugh John Macdonald, son of the first Premier of Canada; Sir Lorne Gouin, the strong man of Quebec; Sir Vincent Meredith, financier, and Sir Clifford Sifton, Laurier's right-hand man in the West. Only eighty-titled Canadians remain in the land of living men, and their ranks are rapidly closing up, for most of them are not young any more. Many do not live in this country. Others are scarcely known to the public. It is only ten years since the King, in deference to the Canadian Parliament, decreed that no titles in this country but in that of Great Britain should be used. In ten more years by the inevitable process of mortality the eighty knights now alive will be reduced to a pathetically small group. The survivors of a day before the flower of our aristocracy will have turned before this country decides its own manners and customs for itself.

ALREADY a knighthood means little in public life. You can count, exactly on the fingers of one hand the knights holding high office in this country. Two of them are in the Commons and three in the Senate. No member of the Federal Government, no lieutenant-governor, no member of the Supreme Court, no member of a Provincial Legislature, no member of the Privy Council, none of the knights, but not being in the existing Cabinet, none is required to advise His Majesty at this time. In two more decades perhaps there will not be a single Canadian title left. Let us face that time with what fortitude we can command.

THERE used to be a time when you turned to the comics after a hard day at the office, to enjoy a surreptitious smile before you turned to the more serious business of the front page and the stock quotations. From now on apparently you will turn to the comics when you yearn for a quiet, comforting little weep. For Mary Gold is dead, and while this is satisfactory, the re-entrants are likely to be serious. Mr. Smyth, who invented the Gumps but otherwise seems to be a decent citizen, has set the style in comics before now. Influenced by the tragedy of Mary Gold, the other gentlemen who draw comics are likely to go to any lengths. Already many of them have turned off one of his more objectionable characters, some months too late. You may look forward to an orgy of violent death, misery and destruction. Apparently the public likes it. Apparently it prefers to be harrowed than to be amused. If Mr. Smyth and the others want to produce a perfect comic let them dramatize Edgar Allan Poe's Murders of the Rue Morgue. That is my idea of good, clean, wholesome fun.

SCHOOL AND HOME
To the Editor:—As a visitor to your city may I say a few words re Mr. Dilworth's speech reported in your issue of 6th inst. How is it possible for boys and girls to ask questions at home when "more parents" are not supposed to know anything? At least that has been my experience with my children. When children went to school to be taught the "three R's," not to parade must of the time to see the school nurse's training to teach children such things as "children of today are gradually being taught in such a way that in a few years "home" will merely be a place to eat and sleep in, the British average speed here is 41.9. Although, therefore, this country is still in front, its lead has been reduced to a fractional part of a mile an hour. In the same period the number of trains in the selected British services has risen by fifty per cent, while in the United States it has been nearly doubled, but in spite of this disparity in the rates of increase, Great Britain is also ahead in the frequency of its trains.

Both in speed and frequency the two countries have at present the advantage over France and Germany, where the average rate of speed are respectively 40.8 and 36.6 miles an hour, and the frequency of the trains about half what it is in England and in America. Contrary to what might have been expected, America is actually superior to Great Britain in the speed of its short runs of 100 miles or less, but its long-distance services are still well below the British level.

Another feature that at first sight

HOW INTERESTING
You Eastern women seem to have the idea that we, in the West, are dependent on your manufacturers for most of our requirements. But, my dear, that is not the case. Why, do you know that there are 1,670 distinct articles manufactured right in B.C. by B.C. workmen?

I see that a series of short talks is to be published in this paper, each one dealing with interesting facts concerning groups of these articles. You should read them.

B.C. PRODUCTS BUREAU

acquired by purchase or gift from the Provincial Archives. JOHN ROGIE.

Provincial Archives, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., May 7, 1929.

DAIRY INDUSTRY

To the Editor:—The writer has read with interest the editorials in both Victoria papers with regard to our dairy industry, and while plenty of argument can be found on both sides, in my opinion, the fundamental principles should prevail.

Dairying is the backbone of all agricultural activity. When plenty of cattle are on the farms they supply natural fertilizer for the land which even with the best artificial fertilizers is vital necessity, and dairying enables the farmer to rotate in the use the land is put to. When plenty of cattle are raised due to successful dairying, beef prices are more reasonable, which, at this time, would be a great relief to the consumer.

When comparing 1924 with 1928 the four Western Provinces suffered a reduction is down forty per cent, which we all must agree is not progress.

It takes years to build up dairy herds, and the dairy farmer should receive all the encouragement and help possible which, in turn, would bring a greater degree of prosperity to all.

DUNCAN TO LEVY SPECIAL TAX FOR FIRE PROTECTION

Duncan, May 8.—Two mills increase in the tax rate of Duncan was created by the City Council on Monday evening, when school and general rates were each increased one mill to a total of 40½ mills on land values.

Improvements will also be taxed at four mills on fifty per cent of the assessed values, to be provided for the cost of the fire-fighting system.

The levy will be levied as follows: General rate, 16 mills; school rate, 18½ mills; debt rate, 6 mills on land values only; fire protection rate, 4 mills on improvements only.

LONDON INVITATION IS HONOR TO THE WOMEN OF CANADA

cision of the Supreme Court of Canada, which declared women were not "persons" within the meaning of the British North America Act and therefore were ineligible for appointment as members of the Senate of Canada.

Questioned in Edmonton concerning the appellants' plans, Magistrate Murphy said that "while greatly appreciative of the high honor tendered us by these eminent Britishers, we, as appellants, are obliged regretfully to decline. In spite of our vital interest in the issue, none of us will be present in England on that auspicious occasion. We have decided not to attend, but to appear publicly while it is still before the courts."

ARRAY OF COUNSEL
Asked as to the counsel engaged, Magistrate Murphy said that so far as she was aware, those who would appear in London for the Government of Canada and for Quebec were Eugene Laframboise, K.C., Hon. Lucien Cannon, K.C., Solicitor-General of Quebec, Hon. Newton W. Rowell, K.C., of Toronto, will appear on behalf of the five appellants and the Province of Alberta.

CONTRASTING TRAIN SPEEDS
The London Times

In an address delivered by Sir Ralph Wedgwood, chief general manager of the London and North Eastern Railway Company, he said that in the speed and frequency of its passenger train services Great Britain still leads the world. The relative position, however, is not quite so satisfactory as it was a century ago, when he made the first of the two comparisons of British and American timetables in Quebec. His conclusions are based. Last year the railway companies of the United States were, he says, challenging British supremacy, and they may yet overtake us.

The method which he has adopted in making his comparative analysis is to take the average speed of twenty selected passenger services, ranging in length from thirty to 450 miles, in each of the two countries. In the year 1926 the average British speed was 42.5 miles an hour, and the American average exactly 40. In 1928 the American figure had increased to 41.3, while the British average speed had fallen to 41.9. Although, therefore, this country is still in front, its lead has been reduced to a fractional part of a mile an hour. In the same period the number of trains in the selected British services has risen by fifty per cent, while in the United States it has been nearly doubled, but in spite of this disparity in the rates of increase, Great Britain is also ahead in the frequency of its trains.

Both in speed and frequency the two countries have at present the advantage over France and Germany, where the average rate of speed are respectively 40.8 and 36.6 miles an hour, and the frequency of the trains about half what it is in England and in America. Contrary to what might have been expected, America is actually superior to Great Britain in the speed of its short runs of 100 miles or less, but its long-distance services are still well below the British level.

Another feature that at first sight

HOW INTERESTING
You Eastern women seem to have the idea that we, in the West, are dependent on your manufacturers for most of our requirements. But, my dear, that is not the case. Why, do you know that there are 1,670 distinct articles manufactured right in B.C. by B.C. workmen?

I see that a series of short talks is to be published in this paper, each one dealing with interesting facts concerning groups of these articles. You should read them.

You Do Not Need to Eat So Much If You Take BOWREL

It is likely to come as a surprise to the layman is the fact that in the course of nearly thirty years train speeds have increased by so very little in the United States and in this country were actually slower than they were at the beginning of the century. The chief reason, according to Sir Ralph Wedgwood, is that the percentage of increase in the average weight of express trains has been greater than that of the average power of the locomotives by which they are drawn. In this country, too, the need for economy since the war has been a paramount consideration, which has not been without its effect. On the whole the verdict seems to be that, in view of the fact that the main lines in Great Britain are more fully equipped—with the result that the maintenance of high speeds is rendered more difficult—the British railway companies have done well in keeping their lead. At the same time Sir Ralph Wedgwood seems to hope that a general improvement in speed, more especially in the case of intermediate trains, can still be attained.

"BIRD'S NEST TOAST"

One Mothers says: My little boy and girl like "bird's nest toast," as they call it. It is a different, and attractive way to cook every-day eggs.

Allow one slice of bread and one egg for each child to be served. Toast the bread and butter it. Break eggs, separate yolks from whites, and beat whites stiff adding salt and pepper. Put the whites on toast, dropping an unbeaten yolk in the centre of each slice. Cook in oven to suit taste.

Children, like grownups, get tired of the same thing in the same way. They appreciate a little variety, such as this, in cooking common dishes.

CONSULT DOCTOR WHEN HOME TREATMENT FAILS TO BRING IMMEDIATE IMPROVEMENT

There is virtue in remaining calm in the presence of illness. There is no virtue in remaining so calm that one fails to recognize when amateur services shall end and professional ones begin. There is, for instance, the child who breaks out with a rash and is physically and salved and manages to infect the whole family and the surrounding neighborhood with measles before the mother calls the doctor and discovers with what she is dealing. Her excuse is: "Why, he didn't seem a bit sick! Perhaps not, but children don't have measles without having had some previous symptoms that should have been revealing."

SYMPTOMS USUALLY PLAIN

The preceding symptoms for almost any kind of disease are pretty much the same. Vomiting, loss of appetite, some bowel activity, a probable sniffle, cold, and possibly some temperature are the usual forerunners of most children's diseases. A rash in conjunction with any of the above symptoms simply makes the diagnosis of a disease that much more certain. Prickly heat, even if accompanied by a fever, is a harmless character than to spread the infection broadcast. Your child may be hardly ill at all; some other child made ill through contact with him may be fatally so.

When temperatures (and that means hot, red cheeks, a hot forehead and hands, a disposition to be fretful or sleepy and distaste for food) continue for a whole day, they need attention. When the child has unusual bowel activity and seems prostrated by the many green and slimy movements, he must not be home treated until he is weakened beyond help.

DOCTOR KNOWS BEST

There is too much of a disposition to call in the neighbors and follow their advice instead of the doctor's. It is most comforting to a young mother to have Mrs. Brown to Bobby's bedside and have her look him over and surmise that it's a "spotted stomach," and he'll be all right after he's had a laxative and a good rest, but that doesn't help Bobby much, and it is no help at all to the other children when they huddle about Bobby and imbed all the germs he is spreading so generously.

Mothers know when a child is sick, because sick children aren't given to dramatics. They act just like they feel. Every mother likewise should know the earliest first aid care to give an ailing child: No food. An enema or mild physic (sometimes), lots of water to drink and quiet in bed. Then if this treatment fails to show results very shortly and the child still continues hot and feverish and obviously ill, don't wait. Find out what is wrong without delay and begin corrective treatment, or isolate the patient as the case may demand. We owe that to the sick child as well as to all his relatives and small friends.

MRS. CULLUM AGAIN HEADS FRIENDLY HELP

All Officers Re-elected Yesterday; 89 Cases Helped During April

Mrs. Margaret Cullum was re-elected to the presidency of the Friendly Help Association at its annual meeting held yesterday in the headquarters, Market Building. All officers were elected by acclamation, as follows: Honorary presidents, Lady McBride, Mrs. McKim, Mrs. Fletcher; president, Mrs. Cullum; first vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Grant; other vice-presidents, Mrs. Hanby, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. Radbourne, Mrs. Monteth; recording secretary, Mrs. Pignin; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. M. R. Lawson.

EIGHTY-NINE CASES AIDED

The report of the secretary for April showed that fewer calls had been made upon the association. A total of 89 cases, representing 366 persons, were assisted. 42 had groceries, 10 had fuel, 38 had milk daily, 31 had meat more than once, 37 got clothing, 21 got provisions as jam, dripping, milk, and 7 got sundries as wool, baby carriages, rags, bedding, books, toys, etc. There had been a great deal of sickness among the children, eleven families receiving milk daily.

"We are still grappling with the problem of how best to treat deserted women who the father can not be found or is in prison, as the mother's pension cannot be obtained until the mother has been deserted for two years. We had eight of these families to deal with in April and they are still with us. We have also widows and aged and infirm who must be cared for," the secretary reported.

The association acknowledges with grateful thanks the following donations received during April, 1929:

Chefoo, China, May 8.—Marie Monsen of the Norwegian Lutheran Mission, who was aboard the steamer Peking when it was attacked by pirates off Lungkow about April 23, is reported to be held in the pirate infested area at Litchien, on the Yellow River delta. This area is known as a hotbed of lawlessness and is under the control of no military faction.

It was not known whether the steamer was still held by the pirates, although she has not yet arrived at her destination.

Miss A. T. Riddell Gives Resume Of Big Conference

A very scholarly and comprehensive resume of the proceedings at the recent conference of the National Council of Education was given by Miss A. T. Riddell before the Women's Canadian Club at its meeting at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon. Miss Riddell represented the club at the Victoria and Vancouver sessions, and her impressions of the speakers and their various messages to Canada provided much food for thought.

Mrs. P. McNaughton and Miss Ravenhill expressed the appreciation of the club to Miss Riddell. Miss Dorothy Greenwood delighted the gathering with two pianoforte numbers, and was warmly welcomed and complimented upon her recent successes at the Musical Festival by Mrs. Spofford, the president.

On Thursday, May 16, the club will hear an address on "Conditions Among Women in India" by Basil Allen, who has been in the Indian Civil Service for the last thirty years. His address promises to be of unusual and topical interest. Members are asked to notice the change in date.

Frances Willard W. C. T. U. will hold a May blossom parlour meeting on Tuesday next at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. N. Holland, 1065 Holmes Street. There will be music and Miss P. M. Campbell will speak on scientific temperance.

Cyril de Penzer

of the Empress Hotel, Victoria

agrees with MADAME JACOBSON on this 2-minute complexion treatment

"I urge foundation cleansing with Palmolive Soap.... the emollient effect of palm and olive oils has the most beneficial effect on the skin."

CYRIL DE PENZER,
Empress Hotel Beauty Shop,
Victoria, B.C.

"I urge my clients to use only the soap blended of palm and olive oils. It provides that absolute skin cleanliness which must be the foundation of beauty."

Bertha Jacobson
11/12 DOVER STREET, LONDON, W. 1

ROYALTY and the smart women of London have, for years, entrusted all their beauty problems to Madame Bertha Jacobson of London's select Westend.

After 22 years' experience as beauty dictator, Madame Jacobson turns to one of the simplest of all beauty treatments for home use.

Madame Jacobson's advice

"To enable my clients to safeguard their complexions—to retain radiant skin texture," says Madame Jacobson, "I urge them to use no soap other than Palmolive, as I have found that the bland oils of which this soap is made provide the absolute skin cleanliness which must be the foundation of beauty. At the same time," she says, "I warn them of all the harsh effects of soaps not made exclusively of these oils."

In these brief phrases, London's chief exponent of beauty culture voices an opinion held by specialists on skin care all over the world.

Why palm and olive oils

The poisonous and dangerous secretions of dirt and dust, of make-up and cream which find their way deep into the pores must be removed. Jacobson will tell you. Palm and olive oils, as they are blended in Palmolive Soap, act to soften the skin, to cleanse the pores, to refresh the natural coloring. They provide the natural way to skin beauty.

In Canada this is, of course, well known. Leading specialists advise the Palmolive method of skin care wherever beauty culture is practiced.

This treatment is prescribed by Madame Jacobson, night and morning: make a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. With both hands massage this well into the skin 2 minutes, allowing it to penetrate the pores. Then rinse, first with warm water, gradually with colder. A final rinse with ice water is refreshing as an astringent.

Madame Jacobson, in her London salon; Lina Cavallieri, in Paris; Pessl, in Vienna; Elise Bock, in Berlin—all over the world specialists in beauty care recommend Palmolive, which is the leading soap in Canada and 48 other countries.

English Pro Breaks Record to Lead In British Open

Three Pacific Coast League Hockey Teams May Be Sold

Percy Alliss Has Seven Birdies In His Brilliant 69

Young Golfer From the Wannsee Club, Berlin, Shatters Course Record, Established Yesterday by Leo Diegel, to Finish on Top in First Eighteen Holes of British Open Golf Tournament; Diegel and Jim Barnes Tie for Second Place With Brilliant 71's; Johnny Farrell Strikes His Stride and Shoots a 72; Walter Hagen Begins Defence of Title by Turning in a 75.

Gullane, Scotland, May 8.—While most of the galleries following the first round of championship play for the British open golf title trailed with the well-known stars, Percy Alliss, young English pro from the Wannsee Club, Berlin, playing with only his partner and their caddies as spectators, scored a 69 to take the lead for the first round away from Leo Diegel, who a few minutes before had returned a score of 71. Alliss slipped into the quest from the qualifying rounds with the ties at 162 and although a member of the British Ryder Cup team he did not play against the United States stars, so his appeal to the golf enthusiasts was not enough to draw them to his banner when he started this morning.

His score of 69 broke the Muirfield course record, which was smashed by Diegel with 70 yesterday in the second qualifying round.

Several thousand followed Diegel and Jolly, who rewarded them with scores of 71 and 72, respectively, but Alliss on their heels played an even better game. His card showed seven birdies. He took three putts on the fifth and sixteenth greens. His brassie to the seventeenth hit the flag and then he took three putts from eighteen feet. He found a bunker at the home hole but got his four in spite of it.

BRILLIANT SHOTS

Diegel's round was featured by his brilliant second shot. He was on every green except the seventeenth in two and then chipped from just off the green and dropped an eight-footer. He took thirty-eight putts and thirteen from a foot or even less. At the short sixteenth he tried to get a long putt down, overran the hole and missed coming back.

Early finishers among the U.S. contingent played steadily. Sarazen and Macdonald-Smith bagging 72. Abe Mitchell's 72 was equalled by Jolly in the British line-up behind Alliss.

STARTS TO RAIN

The weather was fine for scoring at midday but a freshening breeze blew rain clouds in from the sea and there was a light shower. Walter Hagen and Henry Cotton among the last starters, teed off.

Johnny Farrell, open champion of the United States, who found the going rough in the qualifying rounds, struck his stride to-day and returned a good 72.

Charles Whitcombe, highly favored British pro, took 77 for his round. Jim Barnes, who has held both the British open title and the open championship of the United States, finished with a brilliant 71, equaling Diegel's score.

Barnes went over par only on the fifteenth where he took five on, the par four hole. At the seventeenth, his brassie was just short of the green and he chipped dead for a birdie four.

Farrell came to the home hole with an excellent chance to tie his team mate, Diegel, with 71, but took a five. His drive rested on the side of a hill and his second was short of the green. His pitch was dead on the line but rolled fifteen feet beyond the cup and his putt lipped the cup. Three other putts barely missed dropping in on his homeward journey.

Joe Turney finished with a score of 78 after bad putting had cost him many strokes.

Bill Melhorn checked in with a score of 74 for his round. Al Watrous, Chicago, returned a card of 77. Jimmie Thompson, Knoxville, Tenn., was around in 78.

Aubrey Boomer, well-known Irish pro, scored 74, requiring 28 strokes for the second nine after going out in 35.

George Duncan, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, turned in a score of 73.

Tommy Armour, who had a wobbly start, played a steady game on the second nine and finished with 73.

CRICKSHANK WILL TP

Deby Crickshank played the two scores with a snappy 72. Al Watrous and Cyril Tolley joined together as they were fighting it out in a big match, and ended the day's play by helping the home hole in birdie three. The United States pro went ahead of the British amateur at the second with a birdie three. Tolley taking five. The Dutchman took another birdie at the short fourth when he holed a twelve-foot putt.

Watrous started badly on the second nine with a six at the tenth, where he took three putts after visiting a bunker on the way to the green. Tolley topped his tee shot at the thirteenth and took four for the short hole but at the next tee shot, the sixteenth, he sent his tee shot three feet from the hole.

Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., a late starter, went into the spect class of 107 scores when he returned a card of 72 for his first round.

Philip Perkins, British amateur champion, finished with a score of 79, the figure needed by George Von Elm, United States amateur in the first round.

HAGEN HAS A 75

Walter Hagen, the British open champion, started on a defence of his title with a round of 77. The United States pro went out in 39 but rained on the return, although the later play was in a hard rain.

Henry Cotton, young British pro, playing with Hagen, required 79.

Admitted to Bar

BOBBY JONES

Atlanta, Ga., May 8.—Robert Tyre Jones Jr., better known to the golf fans as "Bobby" Jones, three times winner of the United States amateur championship and twice holder of the United States open title, was admitted to the bar in United States district court yesterday.

The youthful attorney is expected to lay aside his practice to compete in the United States open championship and to defend his amateur laurels this summer.

JOE LOHMAN IS HERE FOR BOUT

Toledo Heavyweight Will Workout To-night at Tili-cum Gymnasium

Joe Lohman, Toledo heavyweight, who will meet "Dusty" Miller, local fighter, in a ten-round bout at the Tili-cum gymnasium on Saturday night, arrived in town this morning and will workout to-night at Tili-cum gymnasium, commencing at 8 o'clock.

The bout which is being staged by the Central Boxing Club is creating lots of interest and a packed house is looked for.

In the last bout here staged some weeks ago Lohman was an easy winner, carrying the fight to Miller for ten rounds. He was easily the best heavyweight ever to appear in a local ring in FINE SHAPE.

Lohman looks in the best of condition, weighing 175 pounds. Since his bout with Miller he has done no fighting. He stated to-day he would adopt a different style against Miller than in his last bout and feels confident he will again take the measure of the local boxer.

Following his victory over George Freeman in California, in California last week, Miller hopes to be able to take the decision from Lohman. The colored fighter will go through his paces at the Tili-cum gym to-night starting at 7 o'clock.

Pyle's Bunions Back on Highways; Gavuzzi Wins Lap

Coalgate, Okla., May 8.—After running on rough dirt roads for several days, C. C. Pyle's bunions boys were back on improved highways to-day on their forty-eight-mile jaunt to Durant.

Pete Gavuzzi, Southampton, Eng., jogged into Coalgate from Holdenville yesterday well ahead of the field and added a substantial margin to his lead over Johnny Salo, Passaic, N.J., policeman, second in elapsed time. Salo finished second. Phillips Granville, Hamilton, Ont., and Paul Simpson, Burlington, N.C., tied for third place.

George Duncan, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, turned in a score of 73.

Tommy Armour, who had a wobbly start, played a steady game on the second nine and finished with 73.

MANY STAR GOLFERS TO SEEK TITLE

Large Entry List Is Assured For Canadian Amateur Golf Tournament

Ross Sommerville, Don Carriek and Jimmy Mountfield Will Compete

Winnipeg, Man., May 8.—A particularly large and experienced field from Western Canada will be entered in the Canadian Amateur Tournament of the Royal Canadian Golf Association at Jasper Park in August, 1929, according to C. E. Harvey, president of the R.C.G.A., who returned to Winnipeg yesterday from a trip to the Pacific Coast, during which he visited all important points in the West and interviewed many golfers.

"All clubs in the larger cities are sending big delegations," said Mr. Harvey, "and we are assured of one of the best fields this course ever has known. The West certainly can be depended upon to do its share. And we are hopeful that Eastern Canada will also be represented in this tournament, which has never failed to send full representation to this tournament whenever it has been held in the East, and we are looking for a reciprocity from the East in such representation this year. If the Canadian Amateur is to be considered a national tournament, golfers in all parts of the country will have to co-operate to make it so by sending to it the best players from all parts of the Dominion enter."

"We are already assured of the entries of such well-known golfers as Ross Sommerville, Canadian champion, who will defend his title; Don Carriek, formerly Canadian champion; West amateur champion, Jack Cutburt; 'Chuck' Huggins, runner-up for the Manitoba championship; George Lyon, former Canadian champion; Norman Scott, Alfred Bull of Vancouver, winner of the silver Tolly Pole Trophy, Jasper Park Lodge Tournament, and others."

U.S. STARS TO PLAY

A number of inquiries have been received from prominent golfers in the United States, and while no definite information is available at the moment, it can be said that prominent among those from across the border will be Harrison R. Johnson of Minneapolis, one of the greatest of the amateur players to the south. A feature of the tournament this summer is the fact that coincident with the Canadian championship, the Western Canadian championship tournament will also take place. According to Mr. Harvey, this arrangement will permit a lot of competitive golf for players whose handicaps are too high to allow them to enter the Dominion title play. The Western Canada championship has a large number of flights which give every player a chance for a prize. In addition, Mr. Harvey said, there will be the interprovincial team match, which should insure the four best players from both Ontario and Quebec. It is hoped that this year a team from British Columbia will also be represented in this match. Up to the present British Columbia, which has some of the finest players in the country and is capable of producing an exceptionally strong team, has not seen fit to enter this event.

TORONTO TEAM WINS

Woodstock, N.B., May 8.—Toronto Elizabeths, Upper Canadian basketball champions, defeated the 89th Battalion of Woodstock, Maritime champions, in the first encounter of the two-game series for the Dominion junior championship, by a score of 45 to 19.

New York Yankees Regain Old Place At Top of League

Manage to Shade St. Louis Browns 6-5 to Take American League Leadership for First Time This Season; Chicago Defeats Philadelphia; Athletics and Browns Tied for Second Place; Ruth Hits Fifth Home Run; Giants Fall Before Pittsburgh; Boston Remains on Top of National by 8-5 Victory Over St. Louis.

The New York Yankees are back home again but only by the skin of their teeth. The champions regained their old stamping ground yesterday with just half a game to spare, as they shaded the St. Louis Browns by 6-5 at Sportsman's Park, while the Chicago White Sox were tumbling the Philadelphia Athletics 4-2 in a surprise battle at Chicago. This combination of events left the Athletics and Browns in a virtual tie, but for second place rather than first.

The Ruppert Rifles fired an even dozen volleys at Young Alvin Crowder. The hardest was Babe Ruth's home run with two aboard in the fourth but the most effective was Bob Meusel's pinch double in the ninth after the Babe had walked and Gehrig had singled. Ruth's homer was his fifth which placed him only one behind his pal, Lou Gehrig.

Boston nosed out Cleveland by 5-4 and Detroit shaded Washington by 3-2 in minor raids along the American League front.

GIANTS LOSE AGAIN

The New York Giants once more had to hit for the circuit to score and as a consequence the Pittsburgh Pirates rushed off with the decision by 3-2 in their first engagement of the season at the Polo Grounds. Young Larry French, the Portland, Ore., southpaw, made his first big league start and pitched no fault whatever to the rain of Giant bats. The Boston Braves remained at the top by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5 in an eight-inning game.

The Chicago Cubs had no trouble with the Brooklyn Robins, winning 9-4 and holding on with striking distance of Judge Fuchs's amazing team.

Frank O'Doul, the reformed pitcher, hit his fifth home run at Philadelphia, enabling the home team to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 6-1.

Two were on base in the eighth when O'Doul's drive off Rixey scaled the right field wall.

PORTLAND ICE HOCKEY

Team Offered For Sale

Portland, Ore., May 8.—Anthony Nephach, principal stockholder of the Portland ice hockey team and president of the Coliseum Amusement Company, said to-day the team is for sale and that Frank Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Ice Hockey League, holds an option on the Portland and Victoria teams.

Nephach indicated both teams may be disposed of within a week. He said frankly that he hoped he could sell. He declined to mention the price asked, but it was believed by those acquainted with the situation to be more than $20,000.

Sale of the Portland team, Nephach explained, would not necessarily affect Pacific Coast League hockey, which could continue as a feeder to the major leagues.

Nephach, seventy-three years old, said his team lost money last year and he wants to clean up his affairs and "go around the world."

IS SERIOUSLY ILL

WALTER JOHNSON

Washington, May 8.—Walter Johnson, the "Big Train" of baseball fame, lay seriously ill in his hospital to-day and a long siege of inactivity apparently faced him. His ailment was believed to be a kidney infection coupled with an influenza attack.

CHAMPION IS MEDALIST IN TITLE GOLF

Marion Wilson Turns in Score of 80 in B.C. Women's Golf

Mrs. Sweeney of Vancouver and Mrs. Philbrick Tied For Second With 82's

Marion Wilson, present British Columbia women's golf champion, carried off the medal honors in the qualifying round of the B.C. amateur championship at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday by turning in a splendid score of eighty, just five strokes over par.

Mrs. Sweeney of Vancouver, former British Columbia and P.N.W. champion, and Mrs. Philbrick of the Victoria Golf Club, tied for second place, each with eighty-two. Scores of ninety-five or better qualified.

Of the sixteen players who qualified nine are from Victoria clubs, while seven are Vancouver entries. Two star local players who failed to make the select group were Mrs. Walter Parry of Colwood, and Mrs. Cecil Reid, present Uplinton champion. Mrs. Laird of Winnipeg, Manitoba champion, and Miss Drysdale, former Vancouver city champion, also failed to qualify.

Mrs. McAllister, another of Vancouver's strong players, checked in with an eighty-five to take fourth place honors. Mrs. Vera Hutchings, also of Vancouver, and one of the favorites to lift the title, had an eighty-six, being tied with Mrs. K. C. Allen.

The medalist went out in forty-two taking an eight on the 135-yard par three hole. Coming home, she played splendid golf, getting a thirty-eight, two under par figures. Her card follows:

Par 585 645 333-42
Par 585 645 333-42
In 494 435 444-38-80
Par 585 645 333-42-75

Match play started to-day and will continue until Friday, when the finals are scheduled. Daily putting competitions over nine holes are being held for a prize donated by Mrs. Laird.

Victoria, Vancouver And Portland Squads May Be Taken East

Frank Patrick, Who Will Negotiate for Franchise in N.H.L. With Plans of Operating in Chicago, Holds Options on Portland and Victoria Teams, Besides Owing Vancouver Club; Move Would Not Break Up Pacific Coast League as Players Would Be Brought From Prairies to Make Up Teams; Seattle Team Is Not Included in Proposed Deal.

Seattle, May 8.—When Frank Patrick left Vancouver Monday night with the blunt announcement that he was going to try and buy a second hockey franchise in the National League for Chicago, he apparently told only half of the story.

Rumors of an alliance between Patrick, head of the Pacific Coast Hockey League as well as owner of the Vancouver Club, and Paddy Harmon, Chicago sports promoter, have been floating around for some time. Patrick's acknowledgment confirms them.

The plan is for Patrick to operate in Harmon's new sport plant at Chicago with a second team to run in opposition to the Black Hawks.

PATRICK HAS OPTION

What Patrick did not discuss in his brief statement was the problem of getting players for his Chicago team. From a source considered absolutely reliable it was learned yesterday that Patrick has secured an option which will allow him to take over the team on the playing squad of the Portland team.

It is presumed that he has the same agreement with the Victoria team, which has been largely controlled by him. He also has his own Vancouver team to turn over to the new league.

The complete details of the deal are expected to be made public in the near future. It is understood that Patrick proposed not only to furnish his new Chicago team with a complete playing squad, but two other new teams which the National League is interested in starting this year.

Seattle is reported to have been left out of Patrick's plans because of the failure of the local owners to get together with him.

Years ago when Patrick sold out his Pacific Coast interests to the Eastern magnates for the first time, it meant the end of hockey in the Northwest. However, those close to the situation do not expect that Patrick's present plan—even if it does result in the elimination of hockey in the Northwest—will disrupt the Coast League.

FRANCHISES REMAIN

In the first place, the franchises still remain with the Victoria and Seattle teams. Patrick's plan to furnish new players from the Canadian prairie teams for Vancouver, Victoria and Portland. While these players would not be as good as those he brought out last year, still they could probably furnish keen competition for the Seattle six.

Patrick would thereby continue as president of the Pacific Coast League since all the terms of the various teams was for a two-year period and still was one more to run.

It is expected that he would delegate some one in Vancouver to handle his affairs there.

At the close of the past season Patrick perfected an alliance with the National Association by which big league clubs could draft players from the Coast League.

It was hoped to be made it possible for the Coast League clubs to obtain assistance in the matter of getting players from the big leagues.

The complete details of the deal are expected to be announced Saturday, when the National League magnates meet with Patrick in Montreal.

SEATTLE GOLF TEAM COMING

Large Contingent Will Be in City For Annual Match With Victoria

One of the most outstanding golfing events of the year will be staged on Saturday over the Oak Bay course and golfers are beginning to arrive in the city for the game.

Forty golfing enthusiasts led by Capt. H. M. Bolcom and including players of such calibre as Ben Stein are expected to arrive here between now and the end of the week from Seattle.

The occasion is the annual team match between Victoria Golf Club and the Seattle Golf Club. These inter-city matches have been played for the last twenty-five years, and interest in the tourney increases each season.

The headquarters of the Seattle golfers over the week-end will be the Empress Hotel, where reservations have already been made for several suites of rooms to take care of the party.

The first party will arrive in the city from Seattle to-morrow in charge of S. L. Russell.

Capt. J. V. Perks, secretary of the Victoria Golf Club, is arranging for the reception of the visitors.

Cragadour Still Favored to Win

London, May 8.—At the Beaufort Club's call, over last night Lord Astor's cold Cragadour contributes the favorite for the Epsom Derby. He was quoted at 11 to 2 against.

Mr. Jinks and Gay Day were next at 10 to 1 against.

Effective May 12, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1:45.

Old Country Cricket

London, May 8.—In cricket matches which ended yesterday, Surrey drew with Hampshire, at the Kennington Oval; South Africa drew with Leicester, at Leicester; Gloucestershire won the first innings from Warwickshire, at Birmingham; Nottinghamshire won the first innings from Sussex, at Nottingham, and Kent drew with Oxford University, at Oxford. The scores followed: South Africa vs. Leicester—Leicester, 208 and 191 for seven wickets; South Africa, 354 for eight wickets (declared). Surrey vs. Hampshire—Surrey, 490 for six wickets (declared); Hampshire, 147 for eight wickets. Gloucestershire vs. Warwickshire—Gloucestershire, 493 for eight wickets (declared); Warwickshire, 295, followed on, 76 for no wickets. Nottingham vs. Sussex—Nottingham, 200 and 147 for two wickets (declared); Sussex, 188 and 162 for seven wickets. Lancashire vs. Northamptonshire—Lancashire, 280; Northants, 252. Kent vs. Oxford University—Kent, 257 and 126 for two wickets; Oxford, 148. Continuing his great innings for Gloucestershire against Warwickshire, in an English county cricket match yesterday, Walter Hammond raised his total from 209 to 238, not out, when his team's first innings was declared closed at 493 for eight wickets.

THE BIG SIX

Babe Ruth is rapidly assuming his rightful position in the "Big Six" standing. The Babe got only one hit yesterday, but that was his fifth homer of the season, and he was given only two official times at bat. It was enough to add eight points to the 300 average he attained the day before. Three other "Big Six" members got one hit apiece yesterday, but it cost them a few points in each case. Gehrig and Rogers Hornsby hit once in three trips to the plate and fell off to marks of .392 and .364, respectively. The standings: G. A. B. R. H. Pct. Gehrig, Yankees ..... 14 51 16 20 .362 Rogers, Cubs ..... 17 69 18 24 .345 Gossin, Senators ..... 14 58 7 20 .343 Ruth, Yankees ..... 14 52 14 46 .330 Bastum, Cardinals ..... 17 67 9 18 .299 P. Wagner, Pirates ..... 13 61 8 16 .262

SCHMELING WINS IN CONTROVERSY

Arthur Beulow, His Manager, Suspended Temporarily By N.Y. Commission

New York, May 8.—The New York State Athletic Commission yesterday ruled in favor of Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, in the controversy with his manager, Arthur Beulow. Beulow demanded not less than twenty-five per cent "cut" in the gate receipts for Schmeling's forthcoming match with Paulus Uzcudun June 27. The commission suspended Beulow temporarily to permit Schmeling to sign independently for a twenty per cent share, the maximum fixed by the ring, solons for the milk fund charity show. The international boxing union filed notice with the commission that it recognized Franklyn Genaro, of New York, as world's flyweight champion, following his victory over Emile Pladner at Paris.

He tore a piece off his newspaper and tried to wrap it around the cigar—but I could see that his soul was troubled. I took out my pocket pack of 'protected cigars' and gave him a foil-wrapped Marguerite as fresh, firm and fragrant as when it left the factory. Naturally we got to be good friends. # Here's Why Firestone Tires Hold All Records

THE GREATEST enemy to tire life is internal heat and friction—generated within the tire by the cords chafing against each other. Firestone has solved this with the patented exclusive Gum-Dipping process.

In this extra process, every cord passes through liquid rubber which saturates every fibre in every strand and insulates every part of the cord with pure rubber. This is the only known method which carries the liquid rubber to the innermost parts of the cords and unifies the whole structure of the tire . . . the result—these tires hold all records for safety, mileage and endurance.

Your nearest Firestone Dealer has a complete stock of Firestone Gum-Dipped tires. He saves you money and serves you better. See him to-day.

She was left a cripple! Now walks as well as anyone.

"I think it only right to let you know of the wonderful benefit my wife has received from your Kruschen Salts. She had rheumatic fever in 1911, and was left a cripple. I thought it was a waste of money at the time as I had tried almost everything. I got a bottle from your druggist. Within a month she was better, and can now walk as well as anyone. This is no humbug, as all people in this place know. We are always telling people about it."

E. A. L. C.

Kruschen is a perfect blend of those six natural salts which are vital to your body well being. The analysis is on the bottle. There are sodium and magnesium to clear away the waste matter that clogs your system and poisons your blood. To feed your tissues, there's the tonic potassium. The daily dose of Kruschen will keep you in constant good health. Buy a bottle to-day and start a new life to-morrow.

FOURTH ANNUAL TRIANGLE TRIP NOW ARRANGED

C.N.R. Will Conduct Ten-day Tour to Jasper Park, Prince Rupert and Vancouver

The fourth annual personally conducted triangle trip of British Columbia, under the auspices of the Canadian National Railway will be held this year from July 22 to July 31. It was announced this morning by C. F. Earle, local agent for the C.N.R.

For the last three years the conducted triangle trip from Vancouver to Jasper Park, to Prince Rupert and return to Vancouver has been popular with large numbers of people who have only a limited time for a holiday and who wish to make the best use of that time. The scenery over the entire route is most majestic and gorgeous, and for 500 miles the last leg of the journey is made by the palatial steamer Prince Rupert or Prince George from Prince Rupert to Vancouver.

The special train for this year's conducted triangle trip will leave Vancouver at 9 o'clock Monday morning, July 22, and a run will be made to Kamloops that day. The train will stay at Kamloops all night and will leave for Jasper Park at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

At JASPER PARK
Two full days will be given at Jasper Park, July 23 and 24. The first day a motor trip to beautiful Maligne Canyon has been planned and for the second day a motor trip to Mt. Edith Cavell has been arranged. Time will be given at Jasper for individual sightseeing and to enjoy the beauties and recreations of the famous park.

The fifth day of the trip, Friday, July 26, the train will leave Jasper early in the morning and will make a run to Prince George where the passengers will remain all night aboard the train. The following day the run will be made from Prince George to Seattle.

Sunday, July 28, the party will arrive at Prince Rupert after the trip through Huxley Canyon. All the following day until 4 o'clock in the afternoon will be spent at Prince Rupert. At 4 o'clock the steamer Prince George will sail for Vancouver.

After a full day aboard ship the Prince George will arrive at Vancouver at 9 a.m., July 31.

Cutting off six and a quarter hours from the former schedule, the 1929 service of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway's crack train the Olympian, was announced this morning by A. P. Chapman Jr., local agent. The Olympian will be operated between Seattle, Tacoma and Chicago, and will provide the latest and most luxurious in land transportation.

The new service will call for the train to leave Seattle every day at 6:15 p.m. Arrival in Chicago will be made on the morning of the third day at 9 o'clock, giving a sixty-one and a quarter hour service.

Branch line service from Hoquiam, Aberdeen and Raymond will be changed so as to make connection at Tacoma. Everett service will be changed to connect at Cedar Falls. Service on the northern Montana division will be changed to make connection at Harlowton. Calls on the new service will be at Spokane, Missoula, Butte, Harlowton, Miles City, Moberg, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago.

Emma Alexander En Route Here With Big List

With eighty passengers and eighty tons of general cargo, the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal passenger liner Emma Alexander will arrive here to-morrow night from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, having left the latter port yesterday afternoon on schedule time, according to information received in the city this morning by W. M. Allan, local agent from company headquarters in the South.

With good weather up the coast the Emma should dock at the Rippet pier to-morrow night between 10 and 11 o'clock. Mr. Allan will receive wireless advice sometime to-morrow from Capt. Fred Nyström, master of the vessel, stating the exact time of arrival.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, May 8.—Four ten-thousand-ton passenger ships being built in Hamburg for the French Line will be placed in the Seattle service of the line in November.

A. W. Hoffman, passenger manager for the company in Seattle, said yesterday the Oregon will be given her trial trip in August. Hoffman returned here yesterday, after an extended tour of Europe. Each vessel will have accommodations for fifty first class cabin passengers. The ships will be the first to be placed in the Seattle trade by the French Line.

Prices On Grain Market At Winnipeg Show Gains

Winnipeg, May 8.—In a dull and featureless grain market here prices to-day recorded net gains of 1½ to 1½ cents for the day. At the opening the market was 1½ lower, but values soon displayed an upward tendency and the market became firm and gains shortly were marked up. Demand for cash wheat improved. Prices were generally unchanged to ½ cent higher. Exporters bought a good quantity of wheat and it was thought European buyers were finally entering the Canadian market.

COMMENCING ALASKA SEASON TO-NIGHT

SS. PRINCESS LOUISE

which will sail from Victoria at midnight to-night and from Vancouver to-morrow night for Skagway and other ports in Northern British Columbia and Alaska. The Louise will take three trips this month, and in June will operate on the tourist schedule in company with two other C.P.R. steamers.

KATHLEEN WILL TAKE EXCURSION

On Special Trip to Seattle on Saturday, Steamer Will Carry 1,500 People

Nearly 1,500 Victorians will take advantage of the excursion trip to Seattle on Saturday aboard the crack C.P.R. steamer Princess Kathleen, according to present indications. Last year the Kathleen took her capacity list and on Saturday it is expected that she will again be popular with a large number of people.

The steamer will leave Victoria at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and will return to Victoria about 10 o'clock in the evening after five hours in Seattle and eight hours on the water. The ship will arrive in Seattle at 1 o'clock, and will leave on the return trip at 6 o'clock. An orchestra will be carried for dancing and other amusements are being made for the enjoyment of the passengers. The trip is under the auspices of the Usadians Club.

On Friday the Princess Alice will take an excursion trip to Bellingham and return in connection with the annual Tulip Festival there. The Alice will leave the Belleville Street depot at 9 o'clock in the morning and will return in the evening. Five hours will be given in Bellingham to see the parade and other sports there.

GULF ISLANDS SERVICE

The steamer Princess Louise leaves for the Gulf Islands at 7:15 a.m. on Mondays and 8:00 a.m. on Thursdays. The Island Princess leaves Victoria for the Gulf Islands at 8:00 a.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays, returning the same day.

The steamer Princess Royal leaves Victoria for Vancouver via the Gulf Islands at 11:00 a.m. on Tuesdays.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD SCOUT TO HUNT BIG GAME

After Traveling in Africa, Dick Douglas En Route to Alaska to Hunt Kodiak Bears

Winnipeg, Man., May 8.—Dick Douglas, who at the age of sixteen has the distinction of being a world traveler and the author of a "best seller," is now proceeding West over the Canadian National Railway, on his way to Alaska to secure material for a new book and to hunt kodiak bears, which are probably the fiercest of the big game animals in North America.

Dick Douglas, who hails from Gretnabrook, N.C., was one of the three Boy Scouts chosen from more than 1,000,000 in the United States to accompany Martin Johnson, explorer and big game photographer on his recent expedition to Africa. As a result of the trip Dick Douglas wrote a book entitled "Three Boy Scouts in Africa," which has had a tremendous circulation and which has made his name famous among Boy Scouts all over the world.

RODEO PLANNED

During his trip through Canada, Dick will be entertained by Boy Scouts and other organizations at points he will visit. In Winnipeg on Wednesday night he will be greeted by about 400 Boy Scouts from the city and entered in the rodeo for his entertainment by the Boy Scouts of the Rocky Mountains. The rodeo will be held at the fair grounds in Jasper National Park, at Mount Robson, where he will spend Saturday, a special rodeo is being arranged for his entertainment. In Jasper on Friday arrangements have been made for his entertainment by the Boy Scouts of the Rocky Mountains. The rodeo will be held at the fair grounds in Jasper National Park, at Mount Robson, where he will spend Saturday, a special rodeo is being arranged for his entertainment. In Jasper on Friday arrangements have been made for his entertainment by the Boy Scouts of the Rocky Mountains. The rodeo will be held at the fair grounds in Jasper National Park, at Mount Robson, where he will spend Saturday, a special rodeo is being arranged for his entertainment.

Victoria Man Heads British Israelites

The election of W. H. Blackaller of Victoria as president of the British-Israel Federation of Canada, and the passing of a resolution favoring a change in the design of the Canadian flag featured the association's business at its session concluded in Trinity Hall last Friday.

The flag resolution suggested that the design should be a Union Jack next to the hoist on a red ensign with a Canadian coat of arms on the fly.

Other officers elected were: Hon. presidents, Prof. E. Odium, Rev. William Pascoe Goad; Major J. Knowles, Herbert Garrison; vice-presidents, S. J. Frame (Toronto), Rev. E. J. Springett (Winnipeg); secretary, A. A. Robeson, Toronto; financial secretary, David Duncan, Toronto; treasurer, S. J. Crealock, Toronto; directors, W. M. Leigh (Regina), Rev. H. A. Edwards (Jasper, Alberta), E. E. Richards (Victoria).

Indians Race For Slot-winged Plane

Sir Charles Cheers Wakefield, Bart., head of the great company which bears his name, and widely known as the "Empire's Patron Saint of Flying," has made yet another gift in the interests of the Empire spirit.

Sir Charles recently wrote the director of civil aviation in India, stating that he wished to assist him in his work. As a result, Sir Charles has presented India with a "Gipsy" Moth light aeroplane, fitted with Handley Page slots. The aeroplane is now on its way to Delhi.

The flying clubs of India will hold a flying competition with the new Moth as the prize. The competition will take the form of an aerial derby, for which each club will enter an aeroplane to be piloted by Indian pilots.

It will be recalled that Sir Charles Wakefield presented a Moth aeroplane to the Toronto Flying Club a year ago.

Royal Oak

Royal Oak, May 8.—The regular monthly meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute, to have been held on Wednesday, has been postponed until Wednesday, May 15.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Michael's Church will hold their regular monthly meeting on Thursday at 10 o'clock. Corporate Communion will be administered, followed by a short meeting in the Parish Hall.

Ganges

The hall at Central Settlement, Ganges, presented a bright appearance on Friday evening, May 3, when the Ganges Football Club gave a dance to celebrate presentation of the "Hart Cup" to this season's winners, the Fulford team. About 11:30 o'clock dancing was suspended for a few minutes while Frank Speed, on behalf of the Ganges team, handed over the beautiful cup to one of the trustees, James Hore, who in turn presented it to Frank Downie, one of the oldest members of the Fulford team, after which dancing was resumed until supper, and continued until 2 a.m. During the evening several specialty dances were organized, one of which, the "statue dance," caused great amusement. The prizes for this were won by Miss Elinor Grop and Ted Slingsby.

The prize winners in the card dance were Miss Freda Gardiner and Jim McCallum. There were over a hundred people present, and the evening proved a great success. An orchestra supplied the music.

Mrs. J. Royal and small son went to Victoria on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Crofton went to Victoria on Monday for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Abbott of Long Harbour, Ganges, are visitors for a few days in Victoria.

Mrs. Bech Sr., who has been visiting the island for several weeks, returned on Monday to Victoria.

Mrs. McFadden and daughter from North Salt Spring are visitors to Victoria for a week.

Kenneth Halley, who recently returned from the University of B.C., Vancouver, and has been staying with his parents at North Salt Spring, left on Monday for Victoria.

Douglas McLennan, who has been visiting in Victoria, returned to his home at Beaver Point, South Salt Spring, on Saturday.

J. Reid spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Reid, at Burgoyne Valley, returning to Sidney on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martel have taken up residence on their property on Ganges Road.

Miss Jean Mount has returned home to Ganges, after spending a month in Vancouver with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dunbar returned to Ganges on Tuesday. Mrs. Dunbar has been a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulcahy and family have taken up residence in the house on Ganges Hill, lately vacated by Dr. and Mrs. Morgan, who have left the island. Mr. Mulcahy is fire warden for the island district.

Miss F. Eagle was hostess on Wednesday evening to a number of her younger friends at a dinner dance at the White House, Fulford.

Ray Morris left on Saturday to take a position in the Forestry Department.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

SOME DISTINGUISHED FEATURES OF THE SCOUT MOVEMENT

The things which would seem to stamp the Scout movement as different to other boy movements are as follows:

The scout promise and law.
The patrol system and court of honor.
The emphasis placed at all times on a scout's honor.

The emphasis on self-discipline and training.
The motto "be prepared."
The slogan "Help other people at all times."

The badge system, which at the time scouting was started was peculiar to it alone.

The fact that scout teaching is all positive.

The movement is non-sectarian and non-class.

One of the key activities of scouting is woodcraft.

The movement is non-military.

The scout uniform and the tradition which is rapidly developing around it.

To sum up, scouting is an all-round programme of training boys in hobbies and handicrafts, with a view to introducing them to the trade or profession they will follow in adult life, and at the same time developing character and a healthy body. It makes for happiness inculcating an appreciation of God the Creator, through familiarizing the boys with the wonders of Nature.

The promise which every boy takes after passing his tenderfoot tests, is in the terms follows:

"On my honor I promise that I will do my best
To do my duty to God and the King.
To help other people at all times
To obey the scout law."

The scout law is:
A scout's honor is to be trusted.
A scout is loyal to the King, his country, his officers, his parents, his employers, and to those under him.

A scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.
A scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout.

A scout is courteous.
A scout is a friend to animals.
A scout obeys orders of his parents, patrol leader or scoutmaster without question.

A scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties.
A scout is thrifty.
A scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

Rabbit Breeders Find Co-operative Marketing a Success

The members of the Victoria Rabbit Breeders' Association went on record recently, as heartily approving of the efforts of their officers in securing a highly satisfactory co-operative market for all members' products.

At present the demand for dressed rabbit meat far exceeds the supply. A satisfactory raw pelt and Angora wool market has been secured and inquiries for good quality fair priced stock are being constantly received.

Breeders or prospective island breeders who have not yet secured membership in this association are requested to get in touch with Secretary E. Simmonds, 366 St. Charles Street, Victoria, or, in town, at Fur Store, in front of public market building, on Wednesday and Saturday during market hours.

The Victoria association is an affiliated branch of the "United Rabbit Breeders' Association of British Columbia," the second largest of the six existing provincial branches, the Vancouver association holding front rank with highest number of memberships.

Reating

The young peoples' club of the United Church on Monday evening named Mrs. Howe, Mrs. W. E. Bates, M. Mitchell and C. MacNab to arrange for a garden fete in the church grounds this summer, the funds to be used for building purposes.

Stoddart, G. Hafer and R. Heyer will obtain prices of material for the club's tennis court. Arrangements were made for Mother's Day service on Sunday, May 12.

The service on Sunday, May 19, will be conducted by the young people in the absence of the pastor, Rev. M. W. Lees.

With Miss Christie MacNab in the chair, papers on "sport" were given. Mrs. W. Bates spoke on the advantages of sport, George Hafer on the disadvantages of sport and Roy Heyer on the commercialization of sport.

A social hour was spent at the close of the meeting, the guest of honor being Miss Blanch Sherring, whose wedding will take place in the near future. The table decoration was carried out in violet and primrose, a horseshoe being formed on the table, the centre of which was a bank of moss, violets and white rock, on which the gift of a dainty china tea set from the club and ladies' aid was displayed.

Rev. Mr. Lees made the presentation, expressing the club's appreciation of her untiring assistance and interest as a member of the club and choir and always a willing helper in the ladies' aid.

The fortnightly card party of the South Saanich Women's Institute will be held on Saturday evening in the Temperance Hall, Misses Nellie Styan, Janet Sherring, Ona Young and Beatrice Butler will act as hostesses.

Mother's Day will be observed on Sunday morning at 11 a.m. in the United Church, Rev. M. W. Lees will deliver the address. A special feature will be the mothers' choir, composed of mothers of the congregation.

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

When she was ready to go down she observed accidentally, rather than by intent, as she was not a woman who studied her own looks, that she was decidedly pale, and had dark rings around her eyes. Mental strain, when poignant, even though brief, can change some women's appearance quickly. Beatrice descended with the first stroke of the gong, fervently hoping no one would comment on her looks.

Her white had a disagreeable habit of making personal remarks relating to personal appearance, paying gross, extravagant compliments to Mrs. Heron, pretty ones to Ida, and occasionally, when he dared, more subtle ones to the member of the trio he secretly admired the most, as some men admire the inaccessible.

As she came to the second landing she met Lotta coming out of the room she shared with Ida.

"Oh, good evening, Bee. I didn't hear you come in," she said civilly.

"I haven't been long in. I was kept rather later than usual and walked all the way home."

"Trans overworked as usual, I suppose."

"Oh, no, I wanted to walk. I suppose Ida has gone down."

"She's out."

"Out! Where? Won't she be in for dinner?"

"No, she has gone out to dinner with Mr. Weile, and he is taking her to the theatre, one of Barrie's plays."

"What Every Woman Knows. I think she's always wanted to see it."

"Oh," said Beatrice, and her tone was not very cordial. "Was it arranged suddenly? I never heard of it."

"He's had the seats booked for three weeks. I don't know when the dinner was arranged, you'd better ask her."

"There's Mr. Melkie and Conrad gone in, we'd better go down."

Lotta rustled down the stairs and Beatrice followed, much disquieted. She did not think Ida should have gone out with the German at all, and the fact that she had not even mentioned that he had asked her troubled her. She imagined Lotta was not very well pleased either, and Beatrice decided that she would question her further when they were alone.

"Good evening, Miss Meron," said Melkie in his jovial, friendly voice. "Our happy home circle is, shall we say, sadly depleted to-night? Well, you'll have to put up with Conrad and me."

Conrad blushed at this direct allusion and looked rather wistfully at Beatrice, who smiled back at him reassuringly.

"I dare say we shall survive it. Did you not want to go to the play, Mr. Conrad?"

He shook his head, replying in German that his adoration was music and he hoped the Chamber concert were not all over for the season.

His remark provided a peg for a discussion on German and English music, which happened to be the only subject Conrad was really interested in. This talk went on in German, so that Melkie and Mrs. Heron were left to entertain another. Lotta was not in a good humor and spoke much less than usual.

The meal dragged a little, in spite of Melkie's cheerful efforts to keep the ball rolling, as he described it. Beatrice felt distinctly relieved when Lotta rose and they both retired to the drawing-room.

"I don't think I like Ida dining out alone with Mr. Weile, Lotta," said Beatrice, going directly to the matter troubling her. "Do you approve of it?"

Lotta's big black eyes distinctly flashed.

"I wasn't asked. No I don't approve of it. First of all he asked me whether I'd like to see the play and I told him I didn't think I could be seen in public yet, excepting perhaps at a matinee."

"Then under my roof. Thank you for nothing," said Lotta with exceeding dryness.

"Not because it is your roof, but you must see for yourself, it is not nice for her to have admirers like Mr. Weile."

"Why not? It's her only chance of picking up a rich husband or any kind of husband for that matter. There's nothing the matter with Gustav Weile."

"But he's a man of the world and don't you go imagining that because he's asked her out to dinner and a theatre that he is going to marry a crude little cabbage like Ida."

ENO is so Mild and so Good For the Whole Family

ENO is so effective, yet so gentle and soothing, it can be given to any child. You will like it and children soon learn to love its pleasant taste and sparkling bubbliness.

ENO supplies just that help which Nature needs to prevent the accumulation of trouble-making poisonous waste matter in the inner system . . . to keep those tender bodies inwardly clean and outwardly healthy.

Start giving your children ENO to-day and take it yourself, but remember there is only one ENO's "Fruit Salt" . . . that non-habit-forming health beverage celebrated the world over for 60 years. Resolutely refuse substitutes.

where he couldn't take me. The next thing I heard was that he had taken two evening seats for himself and Ida, and that she went out to meet him in town. He went straight from the office, where apparently he keeps a suit of evening clothes besides the ones he has at home.

"What an odd idea!"

"Nothing very odd about it," snapped Lotta, with an air of quite superior knowledge of business men's ways. "A lot of them do it; quite innocently the most of them, when they are public men, who have to go straight from business to functions sometimes. Of course it can cover up other excursions. Oh, say what you like, men are a queer lot and you can't trust them any further than you can see them."

"I'll speak to Ida," said Beatrice firmly. "Father has only been dead a few months. It was not very seemly for her to go out like this, alone with a man whom we really know very little about."

"There's nothing wrong with Gustav Weile, my dear, and I don't altogether blame Ida. She's young and she hasn't had much of a chance with the queer ideas, you Heron hold. I used to tell your father the day had gone for the shutting up of women in glass cases. Of course I've been a woman of the world since I was fifteen and I know my way about."

Beatrice, not much interested in her stepmother's past, continued to brood on this odd happening. It confirmed her longing to get a little place of her own to which she could take her young sister and watch over her. The little French flat above the costumer's business in George Street, suddenly assumed fresh attractions, appearing like a very haven of refuge.

"A nice boy, that Conrad, don't you think, Bee? He's Weile's brother's son. He wants to learn English and when you're not in never utters a word of German. It's extraordinary how hard they'll all work at learning languages. We don't seem to bother in the same way."

"No, but we shall have to," said Beatrice rather absently. "Business must suffer tremendously because so few of us know any other language but our own."

"Thank God lots of times for my three years abroad. I can interview Madame Theodore's French travelers and customers without a tremor now."

"But apparently she's got on all right without languages," said Lotta shrewdly.

"She is always deploring her lack, though. She has picked up just a smattering of business French which enables her to get along without disaster. But she is always assuring me what an asset my languages are to me."

"You're not fed up with it yet, then?"

Beatrice shook her head.

"In October Madame is going to retire definitely and leave me to carry on."

Lotta evinced the supreme surprise she felt.

"I never knew, aren't you scared blue at the prospect? Will you be able for it? Won't you make an awful mess of things?"

"She thinks not, anyhow she has made up her mind and she's going to America for three months, to see a married sister in Philadelphia and whom she hasn't seen for over twenty years."

"Goodness me!" repeated Lotta, her eyes ever widening with surprise. "And if it's not too much impudence, might I ask on what terms she's doing all this? Her goodwill must be worth a pretty penny for, of course, it's the best business of its kind in Edinburgh."

Beatrice, thus cornered, did not know how to answer, but decided on the truth.

"Madame Theodore fancies that she owes a great deal to my mother, Lotta, she was often at Linlithgow in the old days, and she will take nothing for the goodwill. When we draw up our agreement, however, I must insist on sharing profits with her for a time."

"If there are any," put in Lotta. "It'll make a difference when she leaves for, of course, you're only an amateur."

"Of course," asserted Beatrice, not caring to expatiate on her own individual and very artistic taste which delighted Madame Theodore every day and had surprised Monsieur Dubois.

"It's a queer adventure altogether, but I'm sure I wish you well."

"When Madame leaves I shall go and live at the flat, Lotta, and I don't suppose you will mind very much if I take Ida with me. It would be better for her than—"

"Than under my roof. Thank you for nothing," said Lotta with exceeding dryness.

"Not because it is your roof, but you must see for yourself, it is not nice for her to have admirers like Mr. Weile."

"Why not? It's her only chance of picking up a rich husband or any kind of husband for that matter. There's nothing the matter with Gustav Weile."

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The King Bee was a sight to see upon the Goofygoose cause he sat right up straight and looked so proud it made the Tinies smile. "Now, don't stray off," he shouted loud. "I'll lead this happy tiny crowd to Mister Baker's oven. It's only 'bout a mile. Through trees and shrubs we'll gaily go. Then suddenly I'll holler 'whoa.' And you will know that we can stop and start in having fun." The Goofygoose then moved real fast, and Clowzy, who was trailing last, yelled, "Hey! Go slower. We'll get tired. I beg of you, don't run."

"All right," the Goofygoose replied. "I thought I'd give this line a ride that he would long remember, but you've made me change my mind. I won't be tricky. Not at all. So I don't think the bee will fall. Perhaps, at least, he'll thank me when he knows I'm being kind."

Uncle Wiggily And Nellie's Nest

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time as Uncle Wiggily was hopping past the tree where the Chip Chip family of sparrows had built their nest house, Mr. Longears heard the mother bird saying to her children Nellie and Dickie:

"Now, my dears, you have nothing to do for awhile before you go to school, so I think you should practice nest building."

"Yes, mother, I will," sang Nellie.

"Pooh! I'm a sparrow and I don't need to learn how to build a nest," chirped Dickie.

"Yes, you must practice just the same as Nellie," said his mother.

"While it is true that boy sparrows don't have to do quite so much about making nests as girl and lady sparrows do, still, when you grow up and have a little wife of your own, Dickie, you'll want to know how to help her make a home nest, won't you?"

"No!" chirped Dickie as he picked up some seeds. "I'm never going to get married so I won't have to learn how to make a nest."

"Don't be silly!" sang Nellie, who was a happy little sparrow child. "Of course you'll get married some day. Come on now and I'll show you how to build a nest."

"Pooh! You don't know yourself!" laughed Dickie.

"Well, I'm going to learn," answered Nellie.

Uncle Wiggily called up to her

"Oh, all right! I'll stop and look at the nest you build after I have a game of feather tag with Jimmie Wibbly-wobble, the duck," said Dickie as he flew off by himself.

But Nellie hopped around until she saw a low tree which she thought would be a good place for a nest and began to hunt for things with which to build it.

"Let me see, now," said Nellie to herself, while Uncle Wiggily, hiding behind a bush, watched to see what the little sparrow girl would do. "Mother said I must gather some sticks and leaves and pieces of soft grass, and stray hairs from the tails of horses and pieces of string and old feathers to line the nest to make it soft for the eggs. That's one thing I can do that Dickie can't. I can lay eggs in my nest after I get it made."

So Nellie picked up small sticks in her beak and, flying to the tree she had picked out for her practice nest, began to lay them in among the branches where they made a place shaped like the letter Y.

Uncle Wiggily watched while Nellie twined the rough sticks in and out. But she wasn't old enough to do it well and some of the sticks fell to the ground and at last Nellie said:

"Oh, I wish I could find some pieces of string! Mother said string was fine to bind the outside sticks of the nest together. But I don't see any string around here."

As it happened, Uncle Wiggily had been to the store for Nurse Jane and was bringing home a bag of sugar tied with a string.

"If I hold the bag right side up," said the old rabbit gentleman hiding behind a bush, "I'll toss the string out where Nellie can see it."

No sooner said than done. The wind blew the string to a clump of grass and there the little sparrow girl saw it.

"Oh, goodie!" she chirped and then it was easier for her to make the nest. In a few days it was almost done on the outside and then Nellie began to line the inside with horse tail hairs and stray feathers. As he hopped to and fro, looking for adventures, Uncle Wiggily slyly watched Nellie build her practice nest, and she did it very well.

One day the nest was finished and Uncle Wiggily heard Nellie say:

"I wish I had some eggs for my nest, but it is too soon for that." Then, when Nellie had flown away, Uncle Wiggily found some white and brownish stones, like sparrow eggs and he tossed them in in Nellie's nest. So that when the little sparrow girl came back she saw them.

"Oh, how wonderful!" she chirped. "Some other bird has laid eggs in my nest. Maybe if I warn them for a couple of weeks I can hatch out little birds. Oh, how wonderful!"

But Uncle Wiggily did not want to tease or fool Nellie so he called up to her, from the ground below, that the things she thought were eggs were only stones. And at first Nellie was quite disappointed.

But just then, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat, who was always trying to catch Uncle Wiggily, jumped out of the bushes to get him. But Nellie, up on her nest, scattered out the hard stones and they fell down and bumped the Bob Cat on his nose so that he hopped with pain and ran away as fast as he could.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Thank you, Nellie! So it all happened for the best. And if the clock doesn't slide down in the coal bin and get its face all dirty, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the hard puddle."

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1929

Friendly stars guide to-day, according to astrology, which finds that benefic aspects dominate. It is pre-eminently a day favorable to banks and banking. It should encourage daring enterprises of international moment. The total eclipse of the sun to-day comes in a configuration most auspicious for financial interests since it falls in a sign ruling stocks, national credits and international loans.

Under the direction of the stars the sense of selfish ambition may be strong enough to encourage ruthless policies in accumulating wealth.

A London astrologer foresees danger that the financial prestige of Great Britain may "drop" early in certain quarters.

Again the Balkans will cause anxiety, it is forecast, by those who interpret the effects of the eclipse.

Farmers and fruit-growers are likely to profit this year, it is "foretold." Cereals growing in the United States also will increase.

Conferences of great significances are to be called in Washington, the seers promise, and there will be much agitation regarding preparedness against war.

Mexico, France, Germany and South China should be favorably affected by the planetary government following the eclipse, astrologers declare.

This should be a lucky day for those who seek employment. There may be delays and seeming uncertainties, but the right place is likely to be found.

The evening of this day is a most favorable time to seek association with persons who enjoy success. Social entertainments may bring more than a passing recreation. Persons whose birthdate it is have the security of a year of much fulfillment. It is important to push all promising matters, even romances.

Children born on this day have the prospect of supreme success, if they are wisely started in life. Many subjects of this sign become famous as heads of enterprises, or reformers.

John Brown, abolitionist, was born on this date, 1800.

CANADA'S FARM DISTRICTS STUDY NEW U.S. TARIFF

Effects of Proposed Duties Interest Various Regions of Dominion

Ottawa, May 8.—Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, commenting on the tariff bill introduced yesterday in the United States Congress, said it was a disappointment to Canada in some respects, while in some others, it was not so bad as had been expected. "It certainly hurt the farmers in Ontario and Quebec who ship their cream and milk to the United States," he said. "On the other hand I am very glad to note that Prince Edward Island potatoes and live cattle have got off scot-free. We all hope they will stay that way."

"It will be the Eastern farmers rather than the farmers on the prairies who will be hardest hit if this new bill becomes law," said Robert Gardiner, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta in the Commons.

The new tariff would not hurt Albertans very much, he said, and "we will urge the development of new markets rather than a retaliatory tariff for Canada."

Experts here think the increased duties proposed on pork and pork products would have the most serious effect of any of the changes suggested. Prairie Province members of Parliament are inclined to disregard the increase in the tariff on grain.

These, they point out, are sold on a world market basis and the prices they would receive would not be affected by a United States tariff any more than when the United States put the tariff on wheat. That tariff did not injure Canadian wheat prices, they point out.

Washington, May 8.—(By Francis G. Aldham, Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—The United States tariff revision bill not effect Canada very seriously, according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

The bill brought down in the House yesterday represents at least one very important concession to the Canadian farmers. When the battle over the tariff really began four months ago, cattle growers of the United States appeared before the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives with a demand for an increase in the tariff of 100 per cent all round.

But in spite of all the lobbying done by the cattle tariff is unchanged. The United States dairy farmers apparently will get a very substantial increase in the tariff on milk and cream.

Canada's exports are not likely to be affected very much because of the increase in the tariff on milk and cream. But in years a shortage, especially in the ice cream season. Despite the increased tariff, United States people will have to import milk and cream from Canada.

Wheat is already so highly taxed that no change is likely in the tariff, as forecast in the draft bill.

Stocks and feeders are not to be taxed any higher. It is quite possible one of the two House of Congress will insert in the bill an increase of one cent a pound on heavy cattle.

Canada's chief interest in the United States market, however, is in the export of its wool, which the Fordney-McCumber act defines as any steer less than 1,050 pounds. It will make very little difference to Canada's export trade in wool, except that more than one-half of the wool will be shipped to this country and the exports of semi-fat steers may decrease if the Western ranchers succeed in getting any increase in the tariff on that type.

Other than finding that the form of conviction was invalid, the Chief Justice refused to express any opinion as to whether Judge Barker should have acquitted or convicted the accused.

J. R. Nicholson appeared for Wong Jack Jo.

AT THE THEATRES

HUMOROUS PLOT ADDS ENJOYMENT TO COLISEUM PLAY

The Coliseum Players, under the direction of Raymond "Toby" Leitch, are appearing all this week at the Coliseum Theatre in "Temple's Telegram," which has been given a warm reception.

The plot of the current attraction is particularly light and humorous and is especially well adapted to the talent of the players. Miss Ada Daniels is good as a loud-mouthed woman always in the lead of her husband; Miss Leona Webber is cast as a doubting wife of a handsome young Londoner, played by Forrest Taylor; Miss Esther Todd has the role of a wealthy society woman of Paris and London; Paul Wallace is a young captain in the British navy; Leon Cluff has the role of a hairdresser's assistant, a great favorite with the ladies, but heckled at home; Lorus Bagnley ideally impersonates an English butler, soldier, and detective, and with his eyes and ears always wide open. Last, but by no means least in the cast, is "Toby" Leitch, who keeps his hands in a lot of laughter by his comic antics.

The screen attraction is a powerful drama entitled "Sins of the Fathers," which will have the most serious effect of any of the changes suggested.

Practically all the duties proposed on pork and pork products would have the most serious effect of any of the changes suggested.

CHOR SINGS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Fine Musical Programme Under Direction of Frederic King

A very fine musical programme was given last night at the Victoria High School by the Victoria Male Choir, conducted by Frederic King.

Assisting in the programme were Miss Emmeline Lancel, mezzo-soprano, of San Francisco, who delighted the audience with many vocal selections.

Two more ambitious pieces were Nicode's "There Rills the Deep" and "Spring Song of the Robin." The choir sang "Heath Dem Bell" and "Phantom Host." Mr. King deserves great credit for the choir which he has formed.

Lloyd George Does Not Favor Dominion Status For Wales

Bangor, Wales, May 8.—(Canadian Press Cable)—When Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, addressed a meeting of 3,000 people here last night he soon found there was a section of his audience, mainly composed of university students, who had come with the object of ragging Mr. Lloyd George.

Lloyd George began to speak in Welsh and some of the students, also speaking in Welsh, called out: "Soft soap."

Later, questions were invited and members of the Welsh National Party made themselves conspicuous by asking why Mr. Lloyd George had not given Wales home rule.

He replied he was prepared to allow Wales to deal with such questions as education and temperance.

"Will you give Dominion status to Wales?" asked a questioner.

"I have no hesitation in saying I am opposed to Dominion status for Wales," replied Mr. Lloyd George. "It would mean Wales would have to have an army and navy, and what does Wales want with such things?"

Mr. Lloyd George then turned to the subject of the Welsh language.

He said he was not in favor of giving Wales home rule.
